

LahnMUN Newsletter II

Dear Participants, LahnMUN-Friends and MUN-Friends,

This is our second newsletter which should inform you about all important and current actions regarding LahnMUN 2010.

In less than three weeks LahnMUN 2010 will take be declared open! We are really happy about that many registrations! There are however still some places available and we hope you all will participate. So make your country choice and register for this special experience at

<http://www.lahnmun.de!>

By now you can also find the Prep Guides online. This handbook shall be your first orientation and help you the preparation. Within you can find useful hints and related links. So check out the information about your committee at <http://lahnmun.de/resources/index.html> and prepare yourself regarding the topics of your committee and the interests of your country.

Furthermore we want to remind you that the dress code for LahnMUN is western business attire. To become a better comprehension and stick to your roles during the conference, we ask you to wear suits or something that is close to this. Therefore ladies can choose between suit and skirt, while gentlemen are expected to wear a suit (and a tie).
